

The Matanel Prize in Jewish Thought

Call for Submission of Candidacy for the Matanel Prize in Jewish Thought (2014)

The Matanel Prize will be awarded for the best book in Jewish thought published during the last two years (2013-2014)

This $25,000 prize will be awarded to the writer of an exemplary book in the field of Jewish thought that was published in Hebrew or translated to Hebrew, which is both original and appeals to wide audiences. Book submissions may be made by the book authors or publishers.

Seven copies of the book must be sent to the offices of the World Union of Jewish Studies: P.O. Box 24020, Mt. Scopus, Jerusalem 91240.

In addition, a brief CV (one page), list of main publications (up to two pages) and a letter of recommendation explaining why the book is prize-worthy are required. All materials must arrive at the World Union of Jewish Studies offices by 10 June 2014.

The prize will be awarded in a ceremony in the fall 2014.
